

The coming of Christ? Internal...
We have an external God, devil, Heaven, Hell and Christ and we have a whole lot of historical events. The ego sees and perceives these stories as literal. There will come a time when we stop seeing them literally and historically. We must not fail to see the patterns and the symbolism in them, for this is a pattern of Christ in you.

“To the chick being born every crack is an opening. From the view of the chick, it is a terrifying struggle. Confined and curled in a dark shell, half-formed, the chick eats all its food and stretches to the contours of its shell. It begins to feel hungry and cramped.

The chick begins to starve and feels suffocated

The shell cracks, and the world as the chick knows it, comes to an end. The chick begins to eat its shell. It's world breaking—the chick must feel like it is dying. Yet once everything it has relied on falls away, the chick is born. It doesn't die but falls into the world. The lesson is profound.

By Mark Nepo

Facing great change, we must take in all
that has enclosed us,
nurtured us,
incubated us, so
when the new life is upon us, the old is within us.

What are we exactly?

What a Wonderful World by Marcus Chown

"The number of alien bacteria in your body have a total of 8 million genes which codes for a specific purpose. The human genome contains a mere 23K genes. There are about 400 times as many microbial genes exerting their effect on your body as human genes. You are not even as much as 2.5% human - you are 0.25% human."

We are more than we think!

What a Wonderful World by Marcus Chown

"The alien cells in your body add up to a few kilograms or a mere 1 - 3% of your mass. They infected you after birth, via your mother's milk or directly from the environment. They were in place by the time you were three years old. It is fair to say that we are born 100% human but die 97.5% alien."

Highly intelligent Bacteriophage – A
virus that eats
antibiotic resistant bacteria. The head is an Icosahedron, one of the platonic solids.

Icosahedron, a Platonic solid - it's symbolism? "Trust in the wisdom of the universe is needed with a willingness to allow others to assist in the situation."

